

BIRD REPORT for NOVEMBER 2015

Birds	Seen daily	Seen in most weeks	Seen this Month	Unusual sightings	Bird Counts this month	Other Comment
Black-Headed Gull	Yes		Yes		153 on 1st/ 270 on 15 th / 326 on 30th	Significant increase in numbers during the month
Common Gull	Yes since 17th		Yes			First bird of this winter seen on 17th
Lesser Black-Backed Gull		Yes	Yes			Seen on 10 occasions this month
Moorhen	Yes		Yes		7 on 30th
Coot	Yes		Yes		13 on 30th
Little Grebe	Summer Visitor		No			Bred in 2014 & tried again in 2015
Mallard	Yes		Yes		41 on 30th
Shoveler	Winter Visitor		Yes		10 on 30th	Seen daily since the 9 th with at least 8 present
Tufted Duck	Usually		Irregularly			Seen on 11 days this month
Mandarin Duck	No		No			A pair bred in 2012
Mute Swan	Yes		Yes			A pair are resident and a second pair were present on the 15th
Canada Goose	Yes	Yes	Yes		23 on 30th
Egyptian Goose	Yes	Yes	Yes			Best news of the month – this goose has reappeared and up to 6 have been present.